

Go Over The Edge to Support Train to Inspire

Rappel down the side of an 18 story building to help make athletic activities accessible for people with disabilities!

Train to Inspire is a Des Moines non-profit that makes the seemingly impossible a reality for people with disabilities—like having people in wheelchairs go over the edge of A-frames at our outdoor obstacle course event!

Call or text Joe Hogan at 515.802.8998 to see if you have what it takes to climb up the building! Only 10 Sky Race spots available.

ABOUT

With the support of the adventure experience company, Over The Edge, you can have the opportunity to rappel down 165 feet (18 stories) and have the experience of a lifetime. We also have 10 Sky Race spots to climb up the building! Through your support, we'll be able to continue positively impacting the lives of people with disabilities.

“100% of your donations will be used to push our athletes with disabilities to overcome their own challenges, whether that be life’s obstacles or obstacles we place in front of them.”
